The Literature Centre and WASO
are proud to present in Bunbury
“The Sound of Picture Books”

The Literature Centre, in partnership with the West Australian Symphony Orchestra, Australian Piano Warehouse, is proud to present The Sound of Picture Books. Our unique multi-modal workshops are back with a choice of two very different performances, one featuring Afloat in Venice by Tina Wilson, the other Home and Away by John Marsden and Matt Ottley. All performances are highly interactive and tailored to the age groups attending and features seven superb WASO musicians, Alf Demasi on piano, Matt Ottley's composition and Tina Wilson's illustrations shown on a large screen as she superbly narrates. Audiences of all ages will be captivated, especially when Matt demonstrates how he composes.

Afloat in Venice

Written & Illustrated by Tina Wilson
Knitting by Joan Wilson
Composed by Matt Ottley
Afloat in Venice is an engaging adventure story. Monkey can't wait to use his new camera in Venice... but along the way, he discovers something more precious than sight-seeing! Don't miss this heart-warming story about the value of friendship.

Home and Away

Written by John Marsden
Illustrated/composed by Matt Ottley
Don't miss the opportunity for your secondary students to experience the performances of this powerful and thought-provoking book. Home and Away is a compelling and confronting story of one Australian family as they suffer the hardships and terrors of war. Forced to flee Australia, they set out to find a new and safe home in a distant land.
